

Visual Story for The Wizard of Oz

Today you are going to see The Wizard of Oz the musical at the McPherson playhouse.

It is a big theatre.

There will be singing and dancing on a big stage.

You will walk in the big glass doors.

When you get inside, there will be a person dressed in black to take your ticket. They will scan your ticket and it will make a beep sound.

To the left, you will go to the theatre where there is a big stage.

To the right, there will be a place where they sell drinks and snacks.

There are 3 washrooms, down the hall by the place where they sell drinks, or down a long hallway before you get into the theatre. There is a bathroom for people who use a wheelchair. It is right outside the theatre. There will be quiet spaces you can go when you need it.

This is what you will see when you sit in your seat.

The red curtain will be down when you sit in your seat.

You will hear piano music and then all of the singers and dancers will come on to the stage.

The lights will stay on in the theatre for the whole show so you can see and won't be in the dark.

Things you will see and hear throughout the show: A twister, bright green colours, a dog bark, and one piano.

Summary of the show:

The show has talking, singing and dancing. Follow the yellow brick road in this delightful stage adaptation of L. Frank Baum's beloved tale, featuring the iconic musical score from the original movie. The timeless tale, in which young Dorothy Gale travels from Kansas over the rainbow to the magical Land of Oz.
